I. Approval of Minutes - November 7, 2019

Colin moved to approve the November 7, 2019, minutes; Dillavou seconded the motion. Committee members granted full approval.

II. Guests

A. Carroll Reasoner, UI VP for Legal Affairs and General Counsel

Reasoner gave an overview of the gender equity review of the Athletics Department by the Office of Civil Rights (OCR) in the U.S. Department of Education. A complaint was filed in September 2015, alleging that the university failed to provide equal opportunities to men and women under Title IX in 13 categories. The Athletics staff assembled and submitted thousands of pages of documents in response to the OCR request for detailed information about all aspects of the intercollegiate athletics program.

Four investigators from OCR visited the campus for a full week in April 2016, conducting interviews with all coaches, many athletic administrators and staff, and meeting with groups of students from each team. The investigators visited every practice and competition facility, all training areas and locker rooms, and then examined all equipment, apparel, and footwear provided to each team. They reviewed the academic support services and tutoring provided to student-athletes. Full cooperation was given to the investigators which was appreciated. In the summer of 2016, updated information was provided to supplement the data provided the year before.

In September 2017, the OCR proposed to the university ending the investigatory process and entering into a voluntary resolution agreement under which the university would provide additional information about the athletic program over the next year to show compliance with Title IX. Reports were submitted in January 2018, April 2018, and May 2018 as required. In early 2019, OCR and the university worked to resolve any open questions with the OCR. On October 29, 2019, the OCR agreed that all terms of the agreement had been met and the case was closed.

After a complete and thorough review of every aspect of Title IX compliance in the Athletics Department over 4 years, the OCR found no violation of Title IX.

Chair Matheson thanked Reasoner for the report.

The student-athletes had a very successful competitive season at Iowa this fall and participated in the Big Ten and NCAA Tournaments. Tonight is the team's annual banquet where student-athletes will be honored for their academic and competitive accomplishments this past semester.

PCA members asked questions throughout his talk. Chair Matheson thanked Coach Dilanni for his presentation. A round of applause followed.
